Advisory

It has come to our notice that Indian citizens with valid Schengen visa are sometimes denied entry into Germany in case their Schengen visa is issued by the Embassy of any other Schengen member state and not the German Embassy/Consulate in India. This is as per the EU regulations pertaining to short-term entry and stay. You are requested to carefully go through the Schengen visa related FAQs under the following link before starting your journey/ boarding your flight to Germany in order to avoid any inconvenience to you including possibility of deportation by German immigration.
